Rumors of Compromise of Railroad Litigation.

NEW YORK, February 2. United States Supreme Court decision in the Denver & Rio Grande railroad petition for a mandamus is said by well-informed parties here to be of no particular importance now, since the Rio Grande and Atchison companies arranged all their differences on Saturday and stipulated the decision should not affect the settlement one way or the other. The arrangement is understood to be substantially as follow: All litigation is to cease, the Rio Grande taking back its constructed road, re-exchanging stocks with the Pueblo & Arkansas Valley road, stopping its Pueblo & St. Louis road and also its New Mexico extension about fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and taking immediate possession of the line to Leadville, paying therefor the original cost, less expenses of litigation and a bonus of four hundred thousand dollars. The Leadville and other southern traffic over the D. & R. G. to eastern points is to go half over the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe line and half over the Union Pacific, and one-fourth of the traffic between Denver and eastern points is to go via the Pueblo and Atchison line. The A., T. & S. F. Co. agree not to build to Leadville or Denver, or to any point on or west of the main line of the D. & R. G. from Denver to El-Moro, but to stop at Pueblo. The contract is to last ten years. The Atchison company reserve the right to build a line of about eighty-three miles to their coal mine, to be used for coal trains only for their railroad use, and for the sale of coal down the Arkansas valley. The lease is to be returned, and the receivership of the D. & R. G. to terminate immediately. A decree of the court is to be entered o protect the contract under which the Atchison company will have the right to run their own trains over the D. & R. G. to Leadville in ase the New Mexican line or the St. Louis ine of the Rio Grande should be built or they ut off from their share of the Leadville, outhern, or Denver traffic with eastern points. he contract establishes peace after a severe ontest of two years, and is generally beneficial o all concerned.

Washington News.

GRAND CANON CASE.

WASHINGTON, February 2.—The decision as rendered in the United States supreme urt this afternoon in the case of the Denver Rio Grande Railway Company vs. the Canon ty & San Juan Railway Company, upon a petion for a writ of mandamus. The writ was ked for by the Denver & Rio Grande comny upon the ground that the United States cuit court for the district of Colorado had regarded the mandate of this court in its deion of the points at issue last term. This urt, however, denies the petition for mannus on the ground that as to the substantial tters complained of by the Denver company, court was at liberty to use its judicial distion, and that in such case the remedy for ors committed was by appeal, and not by ndamus. This court, however, declined to ress any opinion as to whether the decree July, 1879, and January, 1880, contain ers to the prejudice of either party. But as rights of the Denver & Rio Grande Co. will e under provision of act of congress in e as to portions of its road then unfinished, court considers it is its duty to afford the lies an early and final determination of this troversy upon its merits. It therefore annces that upon the perfection of an appeal, upon the filing of transcript it will hear a ion to advance the cause for consideration he present term.

istices Field, Bradley and Swayne dissented n the opinion of the court, but as the cause soon come up for final hearing, they rened from expressing an opinion as to the ils of the litigation.

This is regarded as a very favorable decision for the Rio Grande. Three of the judges thought Judge Hallett's proceedings so irregular that they favored granting immediate relief on an imperfect statement of facts, while the whole bench were so convinced of the injustice of Hallett's course that they will advance the case on the docket so that it may be heard immediately. It was very remarkable for the court to take such action, and is a tacit admission that Judge Hallett's decrees on their face do not carry out the decrees of the United States supreme court, rendered in April, 1879.

PARNELL'S ADDRESS.

In the house this evening, it was nearly eight when the speaker called the house to order. Very few were present, but the seats of the absentees were occupied by ladies and the galleries were closely packed with spectators. The speaker gracefully introduced Charles Stewart Parnell, who said the opinion of the American republic would be of the greatest importance in enabling them to obtain a settlement of the Irish question. He proceeded to speak of the tenure of land in Ireland as being the most pressing question in that country and quoted the testimony of Historian Froude against the principle of private property in land. He also quoted approvingly the New York Nation against the idea of emigration as a remedy. He proposed to imitate the example of Prussia and other continental countries, where the feudal tenure had been tried and found wanting and had been abandoned. He propose to give an opportunity to every occupying farmer in Ireland to become owner of his own farm. He referred to John Bright's proposition for a company to advance the money for the purchase of Irish land, and criticized Bright for shrinking from asking the English parliament to sanction that principle. In conclusion, he said that it would be a proud boast for America, if she were by force of her public opinion alone and by the respect with which all people looked upon any sentiment prevailing in America to obtain for Ireland, without shedding one drop of blood, without drawing a sword, without one threatening message to aid in the solution of that great question. He was proud and happy in the belief that in the way he had mentioned and in no other way, America would be an important factor in the solution of the Irish land question. The personal introduction of members and others to Parnell followed the speech.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST YELLOW FEVER.

A bill was introduced in the senate to-day by Senator Harris to increase the efficiency of the national board of health. It provides that the board shall report to the president whenever any place in the United States is considered by it to be dangerously infected, and after official publication of such report by the president, the bill prohibits the transportation of goods or persons from such places into a state other than that within which such place is located. The prohibition continues until the president proclaims the place no longer dangerously infected.

CENSUS SUPERVISORS.

The nominations of census supervisors were confirmed to-day. About sixty of the whole number of one hundred and fifty went through without debate. The remainder are yet to be reported from the census committee, and there are indications that most will be held for a time, to enforce a more equitable political division.

BRIEF MENTION.

The New York Tribune in its Washington special says it is said that the immediate cause of Commissioner Hayt's removal from the Indian office was the discovery that it was his own son to whom, under an assumed name, the Arizona mine was sold.

Schurz is reported to contemplate the arrest of Standing Bear and Bright Eyes. Eminent lawyers are of the opinion that the Poncas' title to 30,000 acres of land is good in law.

The total coinage during January was $9,576,500, of which $2,450,000 was silver dollars.

The committee on pensions reported adversely on the bill granting an increase of pension to the widow of Major Thornburgh, late of the U. S. army. By request of Senator Saunders the bill was placed on the calendar.

The credentials of Randall Lee Gibson, senator from Louisiana for six years from March 1, 1883, were read in the senate to-day.

It is expected that the secretary of the treasury will to-day or to-morrow advertise for ten or eleven millions of outstanding six per cent. bonds for the sinking fund.

The debt statement issued to-day shows a decrease in the debt in January of $11,014,263.

The house committee on war claims decided to report adversely upon thirty southern war claims for amounts ranging from $6,000 to $30,000.

The house committe on postoffices and postroads decided to report adversely upon Springer's bill which proposes to repeal the acts authorizing the postoffice department to print and furnish without extra charge special request envelopes for the return of unclaimed letters.

Panic in a Theatre.

CINCINNATI, February 3—To night at the Grand opera house, during the performance of "Somnambula" by Mapleson's Opera Company, smoke issuing from the closet under the stairway near the entrance, came near causing a disastrous panic. Campanini and Marimon, with the chorus were on the stage. As the smoke became distinctly apparent, the people in that part of the house rose en masse and began a hasty exit. The singers kept their senses and continued with the opera. Cries of sit down and hisses, aided by the energetic action of ushers and others succeeded in staying the frightened ones. Meantime the smoke which came from the furnace, was shut off and the opera went on, though a few left the house.

Important Pacific Mail Circular.

NEW YORK, February 1.—The Times says: "The Pacific Mail Steamship company directors held a meeting yesterday afternoon at their office, and agreed upon the following form of circular, which is to be sent to shippers at once:

NEW YORK, January 29.

To Shippers of Freight to California.

DEAR SIRS:—You are hereby notified that on and after the 11th of February, this company will be prepared to name the rates of frieght from New York to San Francisco, via the Isthmus of Panama, and to contract for the same for the term of twelve months from that date. For rates of freight, and other information, apply to H. J. Bullay, superintendent, at the office of the company, foot of Canal street, New York.

By order of the board.

No definite schedule of freight rates was decided upon, for the reason that the vessel sailing on the 10th instant is already full. Between now and the 11th instant, another meeting will be held, and the extent of the reduction contemplated will be determined. The new schedule, which will then be drawn up, will apply to the vessel sailing on the 20th instant, which will be either the Colon or the Crescent City, probably the former. It was decided yesterday, however, to cut down the fare of steerage passengers $5.00 more below the amount previously stated. The rates will be $75.00 for first class, and $35.00 for steerage passage from here to San Francisco, and these go into effect at once.

The fact that the company expresses a willingness to make contracts for twelve months ahead was pointed to yesterday afternoon, by one of the officers, as proof of an unalterable determination to carry on to the bitter end the war now begun with the railroad companies. The existence of such contracts would, he said, leave no loop hole for a compromise, and the merchants, therefore, rest assured that the days of extortion for them have passed forever. The directors of the company were, he asserted, firmly convinced that this was the only remunerative course for them to pursue.

Under the old contract with the railway companies, the steamship company were allowed six thousand tons of freight per vessel. To get around this, the railway companies were in the habit of sending lots of scrap iron, and other undesirable stuff, and if the steamship company refused to carry the material, the claim was set up that it had violated its part of the agreement. And when it sought to get money, under the stipulation, it was refused. The disputes over this question were constant, and the result was that the steamship company was glad to compromise for whatever it could get.

Under the contract with the Panama railroad company, the steamship company pays the latter the fixed sum of $60,000 per month for the San Francisco business, and, consequently, it will cost no more to transport across the Isthmus one hundred thousand tons of freight and one hundred thousand passengers than it would five tons or five passengers. Should, as is expected, the new order of things result in a largely increased business, the company has prepared to meet it by entering into a contract with John Roach & Sons, whereby these gentlemen agree to furnish all the first class vessels, equal in appointment to the City of Para and the Rio Janerio, that such increase may make requisite.

During the past year, the Chinese traffic of the company has largely increased both ways, and on the last trip of the City of Pekin, the total receipts were $133,000, of which $80,000 was net profit. The Australian business has also more than doubled, and the indebtedness of the company has been decreased so that it now amounts, all told, to less than $1,500,000, of which $1,400,000 is due to the Panama railroad company. A proposition is now under consideration to fund this indebtedness, and thus lift the bill of sale on the property of the company given to the Panama railroad company at the time of the purchase of the vessels of the Panama Transit company.

Stock Quotations.

NEW YORK, February 2.—Silver bars, 113¼; money, 5@6 per cent. premium; governments, strong; stocks closed steady; Western Union, 104½; Quicksilver, 21¼; Pacific Mail, 38⅜; Mariposa, 13¼; Wells, Fargo & Co., 102; New York Central, 130¼; Erie, 48⅜; Panama, 180; Union Pacific, 93; Bonds, 110¼; Central Pacific, 110¼; Sutro Tunnel, 3½; Leadville, 4⅜; Cariboo, 5.

Pleads Not Guilty.

NEW YORK, February 2. Rev. Edward Cowley to-day entered a plea of not guilty to the twenty five indictments, charging him with starving and ill treating the children of the Shepherd's Fold. The trial is set for Monday next. Cowley was sent back to prison.

Striking Against Raise of Pay.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., February 2—Between 700 and 800 hands, mostly young men and women, struck at the Dwight cotton mills, at Chicopee, because the pay had been raised unequally.

Pennsylvania said to be for Grant.

CHICAGO, February 2. The Journal's Washington special says Senator Cameron's information is to the effect that the majority of the Pennsylvania delegation are for Grant with Blaine as second choice.

Selling a Railroad.

CINCINNATI, February 2.—The Indinapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette railroad was sold at noon to-day under the order of the U. S. Circuit court. Geo. Hoadley, of Cincinnati, Henry Bates of Indianapolis and Geo. T. Bliss, of New York, the purchasing committee for the bondholders, bid it in for two and a half millions.

FOREIGN.

The Princess' Return.

HALIFAX, February 2. The Princess Louise landed at Ordnance at 12.45. She was accompanied by the Governor General and the guards of honor. Salutes were fired from the forts and crowds of people on the wharf cheered lustily. The princess was received by the various dignitaries with display. The viceregal party at once entered Gov. Archibald's sleigh and drove to the government house. The Sarmatian experienced boisterous weather throughout the whole passage and the vessel's progress was retarded by incessant westerly gales. The princess suffered much, but is now recovering.

Revolutionary Programme in Russia.

ST PETERSBURG, February 2. Although the police seized many copies of the Will of the People in the house where Dentsch shot himself, some issues of the paper had already been circulated in St. Petersburg. It contains the programme of the executive committee stating the only way to give the reforms they seek is to overthrow the government by forcible revolution or conspiracy. The socialists would then transfer the government to the assembly elected by all the Russians, irrespective of class. This is the general policy of the socialists by which they cast their lot with all oppressed Russians. But when the assembly is elected, the socialists will recommend a programme in favor of the permanent popular representation with full power over all general statutes.

Long Confinement.

ST. PETERSBURG, February 2.—A letter to the Galos from Susdal, in the province of Vladimir, reports that an arch bishop and two bishops are confined in a fortress there on account of their creed. The arch bishop has been there twenty six years and the bishops twenty two and seventeen years respectively. The Galos in a leader on the subject supposes they had been forgotten by the authorities. The Galos is deprived by the secretary of interior of the right of inserting advertisement during the present month for publishing the article.

De Lesseps' Scheme.

PANAMA, January 3. De Lesseps had eight working parties of over thirty men, surveying the Isthmus for the inter oceanic canal. As the parties are contiguous to railroad and telegraph their provisioning and supply as well as their general direction from Panama or Aspinwall is easily managed.

Italy Favorable to Austria.

VIENNA, February 2. The correspondent at Rome of the Politick Correspondenz, says the Italian minister of interior has issued a circular to the prefect of the provinces bordering on Austria, pointing out the great importance the government attaches to the cultivation of friendly relations with Austria, and instructing them to keep a vigorous eye on the political agitators and to repress vigorously the excesses such persons may commit.

A Series of Denials.

ROME, February 2. The Diritto publishes a ministerial communication denying certain statements contained in the Vienna Dispatch. The document says it is untrue that the representative of a power friendly to Austria has made communication to the cabinet of Rome in regard to pretended hostility of Italy toward Austria; it is untrue that the cabinet of Rome has alleged that in the public opinion of Italy there existed an anti Austrian current; it is untrue that the consequences of a possible war against Austria have ever been laid before the eyes of the Italian government; and untrue that in the oriental question, Italy has acted as alter ego of Russia.

French Budget.

PARIS, February 2. The budget scheme for 1881, submitted to the chamber of deputies on Saturday, puts the expenditures at 2,773,291,473 francs, and, as the existing taxes produced 2,777,193,903 francs last year, there is a surplus at once available for the remission of taxation, which remission will be on alcholic drinks.

PARIS, February 2.—Of the estimates for expenditures, the war department absorbs 574,000,000 francs, being an increase of 6,500,000 francs, and navy department calls for 168,000,000 francs, an increase of 4,500,000 francs.

France and Germany.

BERLIN, February 2. The great reserve with which the majority of the French newspapers received the news of the bill before the Bundesrath for the increase of the German army has caused great satisfaction. The German press, likewise, in discussing the bill, has, with the greatest care, avoided any inimical tone against France.

Daisy Dean of the Solid Muldoon is for Tilden never.

Governor Routt says he will call the republican convention to elect delegates to the national convention in April.

Secretary Sherman shows his strength in the election of delegates. All the politicians were sure the North Carolina delegates at large would be for Grant, but they are Sherman men. Sherman's strength will lie in the south, Ohio and New England.

The decision in the United States Supreme Court yesterday decides nothing. The mandamus was denied only because the court held the case should come before it by appeal. The court apparently appreciates the injustice done to the Rio Grande company by offering to hear the appeal at an early date.

If the man who did the shooting on Saturday had not violated the law in carrying a pistol there would have been no tragedy. The carrying of concealed weapons ought to be more severely punished. The custom is now largely confined to cowards, fools and desperadoes, and should be overthrown.

The surmise of the Denver Times and News that Judge Hallett went to Washington for the purpose of influencing the U. S. supreme court in the railroad case is made more probable by the decision of the court yesterday. The effect of the decision is delay, which has been the effect of every decision rendered by Judge Hallett in the Grand Canon case for a year.

In the Leadville Democrat Judge Belford said "his preference for Grant was well known in his state and he thought the republicans were not ready to reconsider the unanimous resolution passed at the last state convention pledging its delegation to Grant." Judge Belford ought to know that the resolution was sprung on the convention to make himself prominent and did not express the views of the party.

Just as we supposed, the GAZETTE defends Ralph Meeker. Obstinacy again; would not agree with the state press under any condition.—Register-Call.

Mistaken again. The only time we disagreed with the state press on Ralph Meeker was when it was publishing his cards with favorable comments. The only difference between our position and that of the state press has been that we have thought Ralph Meeker a braying ass from the beginning.

The present state treasurer has not been in Denver for two weeks altogether since he was elected. For all the attention he gives the office, with the exception of drawing his salary quarterly, the people might as well have elected the janitor of the state building for the position.—Leadville Democrat.

The Democrat would have hardly written the above had it been conversant with the facts. Mr. N. S. Culver, the state treasurer, broke down a few weeks after taking his office and has been very ill ever since. He would have resigned the position, had not other state officers advised him not to. The duties of his office are now discharged by his brother.

COLORADO'S PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCES

With commendable enterprise the Leadville Democrat and Herald have published a large number of interviews with leading Colorado politicians in regard to the presidential nominees, and also the results of several canvasses in different parts of the state. As the interest is very great in this subject we give the result of these interviews and canvasses. The result of the Herald canvass is as follows:

| | Conkling | Blaine | Grant | Sherman | Garfield | Washburne | Edmunds | Scattering |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Boulder | 3 | 12 | 137 | 1 | | 1 | 1 | 1 |
| Colorado Springs | | 22 | 14 | 10 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 |
| Greeley | | 149 | 7 | 1 | | | 2 | |
| | | 187 | 11 | | 1 | 2 | | |

The Leadville Democrat gives the following preferences of leading republicans:

| NAMES. | First Choice. | Second Choice. |
|---|---|---|
| F. W. Pitkin | Grant or Blaine | |
| N. P. Hill | Sherman | |

The preferences of leading democrats are given by the Democrat as follows:

| NAMES. | First Choice | Second Choice |
|---|---|---|
| W A H Loveland | The Nominee | |
| T M Patterson | Tilden | |
| Nelson Hallock | Tilden | Bayard |
| J Q A King | Hancock | Hendricks |
| T M Field | Tilden | |
| Adair Wilson | Joel Parker | Hendricks |
| A Y Hull | Seymour | Bayard |
| Frank A Pope | Seymour | |
| J M Johns | Bayard | |
| B M Hughes | The Nominee | Thurman |
| A P Hereford | Field | McClellan |
| S P Rose | Bayard | Seymour |
| C S Thomas | Tilden | Field |
| L R Rhodes | Bayard | |
| M B Gerry | Field | |
| C Barela | Tilden | Hancock |
| M D Crow | Bayard | Bayard |
| David Day | Seymour | Hendricks |
| J L Pendery | Pendleton | Thurman |
| J Y Marshall | Bayard | |
| Wm Raymond | Bayard | |
| Abe Ellis | Tilden | Hampton |
| Matt Taylor | Bayard | |

From the above it is very evident that Grant is the Colorado favorite. Blaine is second and the other candidates are distanced. In looking over the interviews it is noticeable that the element the Register Call, called the "Barnacle," is strong for Grant. In Denver nearly every county, state and United States official is for Grant. Blaine, on the other hand, is the candidate of the rank and file of the party. If, in the choice of delegates to the national convention, the preferences of the party of this state are expressed the delegates will be for Blaine. But if Grant is a candidate, there is danger that his supporters who constitute the most skilful and experienced wire-pullers in the state may be successful in getting the delegation. It can only be done, however, by intrigue and wire pulling, and will be contrary to the sentiment in this state.

A very noticeable thing is that Federal office holders, like Postmaster Byers, District Attorney Decker, District Clerk Bishop, and Marshall Wilcox are for Grant. This is enough to explode the absurd rumor that the administration is using its patronage to secure the nomination of Sherman. The officeholders are now free to express their convictions, a thing which could not have been said a few years ago.

The sentiment of the people of Colorado Springs as shown by fifty indiscriminate interviews is given as follows:

DEAD—CAZENEUVE, COOK.

Culsinier of Talleyrand, Blucher, Charles X., and Louis Philippe Passes Away.

Ca eneuve, the famous Cazeneuve, the nt r of the Rue du Pot-de-Fer, in the oufetard quarter, has just died at the pe age of ninety-six. He began his life s a scullion, but his talent as a culinary rtist soon caused him to be remark- d. The Duc d'Angouleme, afterwards Charles X., and an excellent judge of all that appertained to cooking in the days when the cuisine Francaise was cultivated as a high art, recommended young Cazeneuve to Field-Marshal Blucher, whose soldiering proclivities had not impaired his love of good cheer. Cazeneuve flattered the marshal's tastes while the Allies stood round Paris in 1815, and was induced by the offer made him to follow his new master to Berlin, where the excellence of the marshal's cuisine became a household word. In 1825 Cazeneuve returned to Paris for the coronation of Charles X. and wishing to remain in France he entered the service of Talleyrand. Like his colleague Trompette, Cazeneuve was ambitious. He would be either Cæsar or nothing, and his wish was at last granted, for the king appointed him chief cook at the palace of the Tuileries. After the revolution of 1830 he was thrown out of employment, but protected by an influential deputy, M. Persil, he was soon reinstated as chief cook at the Tuileries. Louis Philippe was anything but a gourmet. His fare was as simple as his manners and habits, while economy appeared to be the order of the day in the royal household. He tried in vain to concoct some dish which would flatter his majesty's palate, but very little attention was paid to the bill of fare which was placed daily on the royal table. The revolution of 1848 put an end to the career of the prince of the kitchen. He understood that the grand art of cooking had gone out of date, and the man who catered for kings declined to prostitute his talent in the service of commoners. He gathered together his savings and purchased an annuity, which enabled him to live till the ripe old age of ninety-six without care for the morrow, and without having to work. He was an authority on all matters connected with the art of cooking, and when Alexandre Dumas wrote his celebrated book on culinary lore, Cazeneuve was frequently consulted by him; while, if public report speaks true, the author of "Monte Cristo" was more than once indebted to the chef for valuable hints and the secrets of the different sauces he used to concoct with his own hands when he had invited his friends to give their opinion respecting some new plat he had invented.—London Globe.

Mustangs in Texas Thirty Years Ago.

The word mustang is a corruption of mesteno, the Mexican name for a wild horse. Many years ago there were thousands, no dobut millions, of those animals in Texas. In 1849, and for several years thereafter, they were numerous in the region between the Nueces river and the Rio Grande. They were found further north but not in such numbers. Immense herds of wild horses could be seen grazing upon the prairies. When they saw anyone approaching the leader would often move to the front and make a reconnoissance. If things did not suit him he would give his head a peculiar toss, wheel, and sound the note of alarm. These demonstrations would be followed by prompt movement on the part of the herd, sometimes to the front but more usually to the rear. They would wheel into line, change front, move in line or in column with as much precision and order as cavalry. It was wonderful to witness how well they were drilled and disciplined. In the event a retreat was ordered the leader would move in the rear a while. If any lagged or straggled they were very apt to feel his teeth, if not his heels. On some occasions a movement to the front was ordered. It was a charge in line or in column, proudly headed by the leader. This was the case sometimes when mounted men were in sight. The Texas Rangers operating in that country were followed by pack-mules in charge of a guard. It was necessary at times to form a hollow square, place the mules inside, and to throw out skirmishers to fire into the animals. If the leaders could be struck, the charge would be broken. The horses would retire at once.

The mustangs were hunted by Mexicans, and the finest ones singled out and lassoed. Whole herds were driven into pens having extended wings, which contracted as they approached the gate. As many as 500 mustangs have been penned in one "run." They were sold at almost nothing, five dollars being a high price for a choice horse. These mustangers were a wild set, often no better than Indians; some of them were honest, good men. They were guilty of many murders and robberies. The Comanches made many visits to that region. They would pounce upon the mustangers, and set them afoot or kill them, as caprice dictated. The Comanches wanted the mustangs to ride and to eat. Horseflesh is a great delicacy with them. The choice part is the fat immediately under the mane. The section in question was very hot in those days for Americans. A Texan was considered an hereditary enemy by both mustangers and Indians. His only protection was the rifle and the six-shooter and a horse of strength and bottom.—Texas Mule Ranger.

STERLING MERITS!

The "Golden Belt" Route runs from Denver directly East. It passes through the celebrated grain belt of country traversed by the Kansas Pacific Railway, the most populous and fertile portion of Kansas, in which were raised 45 per cent—nearly one-half—of all the wheat, and 31 per cent—nearly one third—of all the corn grown in the state, with an equally grand showing in all other productions. It is an interesting trip to view the marvelous improvements observable throughout the extent of the Kansas Pacific, and all who consult comfort, time and economy select this, the short line, the favorite, and very best route in every respect to all points in the East.

A FARM FOR EVERYBODY.—62,500 farms—5,000,000 acres—for sale by the Kansas Pacific Railway—the best land in America, at from $2 to $6 per acre, one-quarter off for cash, or on 6 or 11 years credit at 7 per cent interest. It don't take much money to buy a farm on the Kansas Pacific; $20 to $80 will secure 80 acres on credit, or $120 to $360 in cash will buy it outright. Send to S J Gilmore, Land Commissioner, Salina, Kas., for further information, or what is better, go and examine the land in person.

THROUGH TICKETS.—For sale at principal through ticket offices and at Union Ticket Office corner Sixteenth and Larimer streets, Denver, J. T. Ball, Ticket Agent, where all information will be given. Ask for Tickets via Kansas Pacific Railway.

The Deaf-Mute Index says: "The 16th day of March next is the sixth anniversary of the opening of this institution. It is proposed to give a public exhibition of the pupils on that day, to show what improvement has been made since that time. Should this be decided upon, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the friends of the institution. The exhibition will, if given, embrace a complete illustration of the method of instruction in use, and a thorough exposition of the benefits derived from the school by the mutes."

Notice.

There will be a regular convocation of Colorado Springs Chapter No. 6 this evening. Visiting brethren invited to attend.

T. G. HORN, Sec'y.

Pleasantly Surprising their Pastor.

Last night about fifty members of the Congregational Church, gathered at the church parlors in response to an invitation given by President Tenney, to return the calls made by the pastor on New Year's day. After each had contributed his or her mite, which was to help the pastor buy some new books, they formed in line, and were led to the pastor's residence by Deacon Joslyn. Here they were welcomed by the Rev. R. T. Cross who said he had only expected to show some specimens to a few of his friends but, however, all were welcome. Immediately some of the ladies took possession of the kitchen, while President Tenney was made cup bearer. Others hunted the music books or engaged in conversation until coffee and cakes were served. While the guests were partaking of the refreshments the gentlemen took charge of the Rev. Mr. Cross and presented him the sum of thirty dollars as a token of the good will and friendship of his congregation. Then followed a song, after which President Tenney said: "We have good reason to congratulate ourselves upon the pleasant time spent here this evening, as well as on the decision our beloved pastor has made to remain among us." The Rev. Mr. Westervelt then led in prayer, after which Mr. Cross said his feelings were beyond utterance, and he simply thanked them for their visit and the substantial token of their regard they had presented him, but more than all for the words of encouragement and kindness given him during the evening.

Persona.

Col. E. T. Ensign and wife left yesterday for the east.

Mr. J. R. Kennedy returned yesterday from a visit to his old home in Kansas.

The Rev. R. T. Cross come in from the south on the evening express yesterday.

Mr. R. N. Clark left on Sunday for the east.

Mr. J. F. Morley is in the city for a few days. He showed us a splended revolver which was given him by the citizens of Leadville for his skill and pluck in capturing the stage robbers.

City Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held last evening, Mayor Curr presiding. Aldermen Rogers, Lenox, Robbins, Sherman, Lyon and Humphrey were present.

The proposed ordinance limiting and protecting the sale of liquor for medicinal purposes was read and laid upon the table for further consideration.

A resolution was passed requesting Matt France Hose Co. No. 1, W. S. Jackson Hose Co. No. 2, and Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, to hold a joint meeting at which they should recommend a man to the council for the position of chief engineer. It is understood that the postion of chief engineer of the fire department is vacant as Mr. Ben Crowell never qualified and never seriously accepted the postion.

A resolution was passed to the effect that those persons making excavations along the line of the streets of Colorado Springs be allowed to deposit the dirt from said excavations in the streets under the direction of the street commissioner, whose duty it shall be to level down the same to the required grade. It was also suggested that the five cisterns in the streets whose usefulness has ceased since the completion of the water works, and which are now becoming dangerous through natural decay, be filled with dirt from any excavations which may be made.

A petition asking that the alley in block 206 might be closed up, was granted.

A motion was passed empowering the mayor to emyloy suitable persons to prune the trees of the city, which sadly need such attention. The matter of the "cast iron" ordinance concerning the fire limits was brought up by a petition to permit the removal of a wooden building to the rear of a lot within the limits to make room for a large brick business block in front. The matter was discussed at some length, but as the council were divided upon the question and an amendment to the ordinance was necessary to allow the granting of the the request, the petition was laid upon the table.

A committee consisting of the finance committee and the mayor was appointed to prepare an ordnance and appropriation bill for the next fiscal year, which committee was instructed to report at an adjourned meeting of the council.

The following bills were then audited and allowed after which the council adjourned to meet one week from next Monday evening.

Hull's Examination Postponed.

The examination of Charles F. Hull, the man who shot Mr. William McLean on the evening express last Saturday, did not take place yesterday. It will be postponed for a few days until arrangements can be made to send Mr. Hull back to his friends for treatment if it shall appear that he is insane.

Mr. McLean was suffering greatly from his wound yesterday as the ball has not as yet been removed. He was shot nearly in the center of the back part of his head, the ball glancing and passing under his left ear and lodging under the cheek bone. His physicians believe that that the ball can be removed more easily when suppuration sets in and therefore refrain from increasing the inflamation by probing.

Mr. Hull appears to be rational upon most subjects, but when spoken to about the shooting, asserts that he had to do it. "The man would have shot me," he says, "if I had not shot him first." Sheriff Price, through whose hat the second ball fired by Hull passed, is reported as saying that if he had had his pistol with him at the time he should not have hesitated in using it. It is perhaps a fortunate thing that the sheriff happened to be unarmed. Certainly so if Hull should be proved insane.

Life in Trinidad.

The following story of an phase of life in Trinidad is taken from the Enterprise: "Several phases of human life which tell an oft-told story, were brought to the notice of the writer yesterday. While passing down Commercial street, a little girl passed him, coming from out of one of the saloons. She was very scantily clad, and a light shawl was thrown over her head and shoulders. Her feet were bare, and the cold had made them blue in places where the dirt was thin enough to see the skin. She wrapped her shawl close about her, and shivering with the cold, darted around a corner and into the Rincon, but as she reached the mesa she halted, and glancing about to see if she was observed, took from under her shawl a bottle of liquor, and putting it to her lips, took several heavy draughts therefrom. Then the poverty of the family and her destitution were explained. The child, though only nine or ten years old, had already obtained a strong liking for liquor. This is but one of many cases which show what produces the proverty of the Rincon dwellers, and what is the great drawback to Trinidad's being a more moral town."

SOLID PROSPERITY.

Real Estate Booming in Colorado Springs.

Prices Double in Six Months Without a Ripple of Speculation.

It is scarcely necessary to tell our readers that during the past six months, particularly during the past three months, the real estate market in Colorado Springs has exhibited a greater activity than at any time since the founding of the town. Few, however, are aware of the extent of this "boom" to use an expressive vulgarism outside of the limited number who deal in real estate. In some parts of town the advance in values has not been less than one hundred per cent., while even in the least desirable places it has been fully fifty per cent. We were told a day or two ago by a gentleman who came here to settle in the latter part of October that a short time after he came here he was offered a lot up town for $350, and although he at once resolved to take it, yet thinking it did not look like business to close at once, made an offer of $300, which was refused. Within a week he returned to the seller and told him he would take the lot at the sum for which it had been offered, $350. What was his surprise to learn that the lot had already been sold for $450 cash. He was comforted by the assurance, however, that the recent purchaser would probably sell. As the lot suited him exactly, he hastened away to complete the purchase, having fully resolved to complete the purchase if necessary, when he found the owner wanted $750, and seemed quite indifferent about selling, even at that. Of course the gentleman refused to be skinned in that way, and turning on his heel, resolved to look at other property. He did not find anything that in his opinion was any cheaper, so in about ten days he filled a check for $750, and laying it down before the coveted lot, asked for a deed. "I believe," said the latter, coolly eyeing the check, "that I'll build on that lot rather than pay rent any longer." "But," said the astonished would-be-purchaser, "you agreed to take $750 for the lot, and there's your money; I've told my wife that I had bought this lot, and by gracious you mustn't disappoint her." "Oh, well," said the owner, "if that's the case you can have it for a thousand; but," he added, quickly, "if I sell for that price you must pay this and last year's taxes and all the expenses of the transfer." With the cold sweat standing on his forehead, the gentleman begged the owner to take the check on account of the purchase money, to bind the bargain, and paid in all, over $1,050 for the lot. We give the details of this transaction because it is illustrative of what takes place every day. If a person wants a lot the best thing he can do is to take it at once at the asking price, for to-morrow will certainly see it higher. And yet despite the great demand for real estate, there seems to be absolutely nothing like speculation in the dealings. Nine out of ten purchases are made by persons who must either buy and build or go elsewhere. There are no houses for rent and when a tenant moves out, there is a rush on the part of half a dozen others for the vacated house. The residences that are now being built are, with scarcely an exception, good ones. No shanties, costing two or three hundred dollars, such as were built by the score in 1874, are now thought of. A careful estimate of the value of the houses now in course of erection reaches a total of about $75,000, while that of buildings which will certainly be built during the coming spring, but for which the ground has not yet been broken, aggregates $150,000. No town in this state, excepting Denver and Leadville, can show such a growth during the past year as Colorado Springs. Our population cannot be less than 7,000, which places us beyond a question, third on the list of Colorado cities.

The high prices of property in the northern part of town has led many persons to purchase the cheaper lots south of Huerfano street, and prices have consequently gone up in that locality; they are still relatively low, however, and we predict higher prices in the near future. The introduction of water has done away with one of the objections to that end of town, and the building of the new school house on South Cascade avenue will induce families to locate near by. As this end of the city grows there will be need of additional business houses on South Tejon street and Cascade avenue to accommodate the increasing population there. The southwestern part of town will be greatly improved by the new railroad and land company's office, which will probably be erected on or near the northwestern corner of Cascade avenue and Huerfano street. The plans for the building are now being prepared.

There are choice properties on Cascade avenue that will doubtless soon be in demand at much higher figures than are now being asked.

Among the many improvements that the coming spring will witness we have time and space to enumerate only a few:

Mr. Irving Howbert proposes to build a good house on his lot at the corner of Bijou and Tejon streets.

Mr. Humphrey, who recently purchased of D. Russ Wood, esq., the property at the corner of Tejon street and Willamette avenue, will erect a fine house thereon, the plans for which will be drawn in New York. There are quite a number of beautiful building sites in this neighborhood, several of which will also be improved.

A gentleman, who does not wish his name mentioned, will soon begin the erection of a house up town which will cost from ten to fifteen thousand dollars.

Senators Palmer and Thayer and Hon. L. K. Bass, all formerly of New York, have purchased the whole of blocks numbered 211, 207, 206 and part of 205, in addition number one, lying north of the college grounds, and propose to erect, as soon as the plans can be perfected, three fine residences on block 206. The houses will face southerly, toward the college grounds, and the whole block will be beautifully laid out in lawn and park. In order to carry out their plans the city council have consented to vacate the alley leading through the block. The adjoining blocks purchased by them, they propose to sell only upon the condition that they be nicely improved. None of these purchases have been made upon speculation, the only desire of the persons interested, being to make the locality, in the vicinity of their residences, one of the most desirable in the city.

Mr. Henry S. Haines has purchased a number of lots on Cascade avenue, and will proceed to improve them nicely. No portion of the city has improved more rapidly within the past year than the east end of Pike's Peak avenue, a dozen or more good houses have been built there and the improvement is still going on. A lady has recently purchased a large part of Edgerton's addition in block numbered 211, facing southerly on Pike's Peak avenue, and some good improvements are going up thereon.

In the business part of the city building will soon be quite active. In addition to the block now being built by Mr. Hodgman, and the fine brick structure of Mr. Pixley's, some three or four good business blocks are to be erected. Among these will be one of the best store houses in the city. This will be built by Mr. Wells on the lots now occupied by Graham's livery stable and adjoining building. It will be fifty feet front by nearly one hundred deep, two stories and a basement high, and finished in the best possible manner. We hear of the building of two or three other stores in addition to the above.

As an indication of the activity in real estate during the last month, the most active in the history of the town, we may say that one of our real estate agents sold on an average two thousand dollars worth of lots a day during the first two weeks of the month. Among these were the following properties:

|---|---|
| Block 212 for (the purchaser has since been offered $1,500) | $900 |
| Southeast quarter of block 208 for | 350 |
| Lot 1 in block 203 | 750 |
| Lot 4 in block 206 | 475 |
| Lots 3 and 4 block 227 | 450 |
| Three lots in Young's addition | 150 |
| Lot in block 13 | 350 |
| Block 235 | 1,075 |
| Lot in block 22 | 625 |
| Lots 5, 6 and 7 block 12 | 2,650 |
| Lots 3 and 4 block 22 | 3,000 |
| Thirteen lots on Pike's Peak avenue | 2,890 |

The aggregate business of all our real estate dealers during the past sixty days would astonish the "natives" of the one-horse towns in the states, and show the spirit of enterprise that actuates the citizens of Colorado Springs.

We have every confidence in the continued prosperity of our city, and believe that her growth will fully keep pace with that of the state at large. The coming year will surely witness an emigration to the state, in comparison with which that of last year was light, and certainly a large percentage of this additional population will settle in the brilliant "gem of the Rocky Mountains."

OUT WEST.

Lots in Rico sell at from $500 to $800, and corner lots are held as high as $2,000 and $3,000.

The state lottery authorities announce that the ticket which drew the $30,000 prize was not sold.

An oil painting of Governor Tabor, that is to cost three thousand dollars, is being made by Fishlin, of Chicago.

Golden boasts of a blacksmith who has worked in the place steadily since 1859, and was the first blacksmith in the place.

The Pueblo Banner says the temperature of the water flowing from the artesian well, ranges from 88 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit, and is strongly chalbayete in character.

And now it's Daniel Kraft who appears as the next lucky one at Leadville. He has struck a rich vein of carbonates assaying way up in the thousands and has refused $55,000 cash for one-half interest in the "Lucky Dan."

The Week's Work in Leadville.

We clip the following account of the last week's work of the smelters in Leadville from the Chronicle: "The product of the smelters for the week ending January 29th has been light. Four furnaces have been out of blast all the time: and others have not been running full time. The following is the summary:

|---|---|
| Tons of ore treated | 3,580 |
| Tons of bullion produced | 585 |
| Ounces of silver | 214,306 |
| Value of silver at $1.12 | $240,022 72 |
| Value of lead at $80 | 46,208 80 |
| Total value of product | $286,231 52 |
| Bar bullion shipped | 8,475 |
| Bar bullion on hand | 2,114 |

Leadville Mines.

We are indebted to the Herald for the following: "On the upper part of Big Evans gulch, above the smelters, although the snow is very deep, and travel except in the broken paths impossible, great activity prevails in mining. A reliable gentleman, who visited that section yesterday, reports a number of mines on the south slope from the gulch being worked. About three miles above the smelters, on the north side of the gulch, is the Steamboat tunnel. This has penetrated the hill 360 feet, and will reach a level of thirty feet below the shaft on the hill above, when a rise from the tunnel will be made to connect with the shaft. The tunnel has passed through the wash and has entered porphyry, strongly stained with iron. A short distance above, the Mint lode is situated on the same side of the gulch. On this property the small engine used was found inadequate to do the work, and is to be replaced by a larger one. In the mean time the property is idle. On the south side of the gulch a number of properties are being worked, and several engines are in use on the different claims.

So recently has the Chieftain mine been described in the Herald that it is not further referred to here, more than to say that it is on Yankee hill, east from the Robert E. Lee. It has long been known as one of the best paying properties about Leadville, and the developments have shown vast amounts of ore. To the east is located the Scooper, also known as having shown up bodies of mineral as large and valuable as any in the camp. This mine has not been worked since the sixteenth of September, and although regularly every week credited by a publication in this city with a daily production of ten tons of ore per day, such has not been the fact.

For the past two days lively rumors have been flating about the city in regard to the Chieftain and to the effect that the mine had been jumped, and yesterday an injunction was issued by Judge Bowen against Edward Sandel, T. D. Anthony, E. W. Morgan and Jack Ward, to restrain them from further work on the property. As near as can be learned of the truth of the matter, the original discovery shaft of the Chieftain is located 198 feet from what is claimed as the southern boundary, or the line of the Scooper. As the law says a location shall be made 150 feet on each side of the discovery shaft, it would appear that a distance of forty-eight feet by fifteen hundred is vacant ground, or could not be held by the original location. In consequence of this a party of men took possession of this ground on Thursday and commenced to sink a shaft. It is stated that the party was fully armed, and defied attempts to remove them. Hence the suit before Judge Bowen, and the injunction granted. It is claimed that the owners of the Chieftain have relocated the claim since the first discovery shaft was commenced, and on this ground claim to hold the disputed ground. It remains a question for the court to settle.

Consolidating!

We find the following in the Leadville Chronicle. Among those mentioned as members of the great consolidation is Mr. D. S. Covert, a gentleman who has many friends in this city: "Fryer Hill is now practically owned by seven great consolidated companies, the last one taking in fifteen claims on the east end of the hill. The details of this mammoth enterprise are not yet arranged, and the name to be given it is not yet announced. Gov. Tabor will be the president of the company when organized, and the capital stock will be placed at ten millions of dollars. The leading spirits in it are Gov. Tabor, Mr. Tim Foley, William Stafford, J. T. Briggs, D. S. Covert, Major J. J. B. Dubois, and C. C. Marble. The mines embraced in it are the Little Forepaugh, Union Emma, Strong, Jamie Lee, Bangkok, Alpha, Blackbird, Diamond, Cora Bell, Tip Top, Lickscumdidricks, Confidence, American, and two others, located on the east side of Fryer Hill. Many of these mines are now in good pay, and some of them have produced considerable ore. Their proximity to the Robert E. Lee, and the probability that the rich ore body found in it extends beyond its lines, makes these mines valuable if only on account of their immediate proximity to it. A preliminary meeting has been held, and the details of the consolidation will soon be arranged.

The Black Hawk Post denounces the "New West Prospecting and Mining company," recently organized in Gilpin county as a notorious fraud.
